Loan Cost Examples

The total amount you will pay for this loan will vary depending on when you start to repay it and the repayment term length you choose. This example provides estimates based on the repayment options available to you while enrolled in school at least half-time and the maximum length of repayment term available.

Repayment Option	Amount Provided (amount provided directly to you or your school)	Interest Rate (highest possible starting rate)	Maximum length of time to repay the loan based on chosen term (how long you have to pay off the loan)	Total Paid over 15 years (includes associated fees)
1. NO DEFERMENT Pay both the principal and interest amounts while enrolled in school. Note: This is the only option available for students enrolled less than half time.	$10,000.00	7.08%	15 Year starting after your final disbursement	$16,261.20
2. INTEREST ONLY Make interest payments but suspend payments on the principal amount until 9 months after no longer enrolled in school at least half time for up to 72 months (forbearance and grace periods).	$10,000.00	7.83%	15 Year starting after the deferment period	$20,223.94
3. FIXED PAYMENT Make fixed $25 payment but suspend payments on principal and any additional accruing interest until 9 months after no longer enrolled in school at least half-time for up to 72 months.	$10,000.00	8.73%	15 Year starting after the deferment period	$24,223.60
4. FULL DEFERMENT Have payments suspended until 9 months after no longer enrolled in school at least half time for up to 72 months (forbearance and grace periods). Interest will be charged and added to your loan.	$10,000.00	9.08%	15 Year starting after the deferment period	$26,157.60

About this example

The repayment examples are based on the highest rate currently charged with the longest repayment term available and assume that you remain in school for 2 years. If you choose to make full payments, your loan will immediately convert to repayment after your final disbursement. If payments on your principal balance are made while you are enrolled, the total payment amount will be less. If no payments are made while you are enrolled at least half time, interest will accrue and will be capitalized at the end of the grace period or any forbearances.
