Free booklet can help adults thinking about higher education

FRANKFORT, Ky. (Feb. 16, 2022) — The 2022 edition of “Adults Returning to School” is now available from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA).

“Kentucky’s growing economy means better quality jobs that require cutting-edge skillsets,” said Gov. Andy Beshear. “This free booklet is a great resource for adults who want to further their education and land a new career. It’s never too late for Kentuckians to invest in their dreams.”

The information is useful whether they have not taken a course since high school or are returning to school to complete a degree or learn new skills to make them more competitive in the workplace.

“Adults Returning to School” can guide adults through the admissions and financial aid processes. It is divided into three parts.

Part I deals with the decision to return to school. It provides information about adult education programs, admissions and transfers.

Part II guides adult students through the financial aid process. It includes sections about student aid and other government programs that can provide help to adult students and their families.

Part III provides detailed information about trade schools and two- and four-year colleges. The “Areas of Study” section lists schools that provide programs in some three-dozen academic and technical fields.

An electronic version of the publication is available on KHEAA’s website. Kentuckians can request a free printed copy by emailing publications@kheaa.com.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES) and other programs to help students pay for higher education. Kentucky Lottery funds pay for many of those programs.

In addition, KHEAA disburses private Advantage Education Loans for its sister agency, the Kentucky Higher Education Student Loan Corporation (KHESLC). For more information about Advantage Education Loans, visit advantageeducationloan.com.
